How to find evidence to support revalidation

Why review the existing evidence?

Find the latest knowledge & thinking on your question

Identify if someone else has already asked the same question(s)

How well did they conduct their research?

Are their findings relevant or useful to you in answering your question?

Is their research methodology appropriate for your question?

Does the information help you to identify additional questions you should consider?

Where could you look for evidence?	What type of evidence could you search for?
Colleagues. Reference Lists. East of England NHS Libraries. Cochrane Library. PubMed / Medline. PsychInfo. Cinahl. BNI. AMED. Social Care Online. TRIP Database. Google Scholar.	Background Case studies Clinical trials Conference papers Continuing Professional Development Drug information Expert opinion Guidelines Longitudinal studies Qualitative or Quantitative Research papers Review papers Specific country, setting or timeframe Supplier information

How to find evidence to support revalidation

How do you convert your question into a search?

- Identify key concepts using search tools such as PICO:
 - Problem/Patient/Population, Intervention, Comparison, Outcome.
- Identify all the keywords, phrases and terminology relevant for each concept.
- Use subject headings such as MeSH.
- Look at broader, narrower and related concepts.
- Consider alternative spellings and truncated words.

How do you search?

- Search more than one resource
- Use a mix of keyword searches & formal subject headings
- Use truncation and wildcards
- Carryout separate searches for each of your key concepts first
- Mix and match your search results
- Limit your search results by year, language, age range etc.
- Explode versus focus
- Use citation searches to track who has quoted a particular paper
- Save your search records & search history
- Use email alerts and personalisation services to keep up-to-date on a topic
- Use search filters or clinical enquiry filters
- Ask a Librarian

The Library is here to help you...

We provide you with access to specialist databases, eJournals and eBooks from work or home using your NHS Athens Account.
